The Children's Health Fund and Wyeth: Partners In Providing Health Care to All Children

New York, March 11, 2004 - Wyeth has renewed its' longstanding partnership with The Children's Health Fund (CHF) with a grant of $500,000 per year for four years ($2 million). Wyeth has supported the CHF mission to provide homeless and medically underserved children with comprehensive pediatric health care and to promote guaranteed access to appropriate health care for all children for over a decade.

This generous new donation will help to continue and expand the on-going work of CHF through The Children's Health Agenda. Wyeth's commitment will include support of CHF's National Network of pediatric programs; its extensive advocacy and public education campaigns; and its continued capacity to respond and create new programs in light of post-9-11 America.

"The support and backing of Wyeth almost from the inception of CHF has been vital to the continuation and success of our organization," says Irwin Redlener, M.D., President and co-founder of The Children's Health Fund. "The resulting positive impact, not only on the lives of the hundreds of thousands of families directly served, but on the millions who have indirectly benefited from its innovative models of care and advocacy programs, is of tremendous and lasting importance."

The Children's Health Fund works to provide medical care to the nation's most medically underserved population - homeless and disadvantaged children. To date, The Children's Health Fund's national network of 16 pediatric programs has treated more than 300,000 children.
